

Crossroads
&
Christine's intervention

How do you feel lately ? Tired, uncertain, in doubt, anxious, not wanting anything ?

At the same time, do you not have the impression to be waiting on the station's platform, suitcases ready, ticket in hand ?

In any case, that is my case at the moment. Twice, I have found a picture on the internet, representing a path that separates itself into two, while my clock was displaying 11:11 pm.

Feeling a presence next to me, I therefore went back to my keyboard asking to my Angel :

- I feel your worry, your anxiety. You are just about to let a memory very deeply anchored in your cells emerge. This memory comes from the sense that your soul had printed several times during its incarnations, on the approach of the chaos that occurred before the disappearance of ancient civilisations. This sensation of chaos occurs every time when your soul feels the stress and pain that it has engrained during these cataclysms.

Your soul guides you to feel this anxiety that you can not manage to name. Humanity approaching this due date of cycle's ending, your body again recognises this vibration. However in your present incarnation, having not yet lived a cycle's ending, your brain can not interpret the related perception. As a consequence, your mind agitates itself and can not manage to reassure you. However, you are already aware of again participating in humanity's awakening through your own path.

Your anxiety, would it be not therefore more linked to the doubt that emerges when you see the crossroads appear ? This doubt of thinking of not being up to your life's mission ? What are you searching for, being in peace with yourself or are you still trying to want to save the others from their own chaos ? Yet, you already know the answer as you have lived and understood the experience as a nurse (Self-denial).

- It is very hard for me to not be able to do anything, being waiting for, uncertainty, suspense, doubt... I have planned activities and nothing goes on like I had forecasted it.

- Doubt is a sense, it is the signal of your soul to invite you to introspection. It is quite simply a tool to learn in recognising and accepting your intuition. As you have already experienced it, if the events in your life synchronise themselves in a flow, that means that you are on the "right" path and that you listen well to your guidance. However, if the planned activities do not place themselves like you would like them to be or the events that you have recently met have bothered you, it is because there is a reason for that.

Understand well that it is a question here of an alarm from your soul that encourages you to liberate yourself from your memories before undertaking whatever it is. Your body's cells warn you that they still contain vibratory programmes saved during past events, that are linked with the activities that you have planned. It is only after having fulfilled your introspection and eventually liberated your soul from these programmes, that your projects will take effect or not. So, do you still need to experience fear and chaos or will you choose to pass directly to the new reality ?

- I have chosen to have faith and I have done it for a long time...
- Faith is an ego-mental's concept that hangs itself up to something when it does not have any more landmarks. Therefore at the approach of its own chaos, ego does not have any other solutions than relying on the providence. It is in this unmastery's space that slips itself the Angel's guidance. Having faith in providence is a wonderful excuse to let go and that is exactly what your soul is asking you : the true letting go.

This letting go is not an imagination but a difficult path that is learnt progressively. The memories/ programmes engrammed in your subtle bodies follow them as well a gradual process becoming exponential when they are ready to be freed. As soon as they enter in resonance with a similar vibration to their crystallization, they trigger a sensation that generally translates itself by very vivacious emotional rises.

It is precisely the process that you are currently living in the chaos' arrival. So I confirm to you that the experience of your dimensional change, approaches at a great speed and as I am your Angel, so continue to have faith in me, to have faith in yourself and to have faith in life.

An energy that I recognise, presents itself in my energy field. It is my friend Christine of the intra-earth. I hear her telling me :

- I am happy that you can as easily feel my presence today. I am by your side since quite a long time and these last few days also. I come again to show my support. I come also in the name of all of your brothers and sisters of the intra-earth, inviting all of you to stay vigilant as humanity is fastly approaching its great Transition. It takes shape in the horizon in the years to come, major climatic events, a global social disorder, the fall of the government's authorities and the crash of the monetary system. Your society will be exposed to a chaos without precedent in the history of the human known as modern. This chaos is once again linked to your illusory beliefs of your 3rd density.

These illusions inherent to your beliefs are the manifestation in the "electromagnetic matrix" of the fear egregore of humanity. This egregore of beliefs is due to the collective mental amnesia that humanity transports, that comes in opposition with the cellular memory senses. These cellular memories engramme themselves every time during the cycle's endings. This opposition between the mind and the sense generates a deep feeling of fear and helplessness that the human being still carries in his memories. This mixed feeling, is the main break to the "taking back" in hand of his own freedom. This egregore acts like a gangrene that has the ability of spreading itself and "contaminating" the indecisives.

With the crash of the societal system, corrupt governments will attempt to impose you drastic measures to try to save their own savings. They will try to impose new laws to their profit and will answer through violence and through “high-tech” technologies of repression, to all of the ones who oppose themselves to it. It is at that moment that will happen the real chaos and that you will have the choice, either to oppose yourselves to their “war machines”, either to remove yourselves from the affront with wisdom.

Many of you have already known that type of event and are therefore prepared to overtake them. Your presence and your equilibrium will make it possible for you to mutually help one another and accompany the ones that will be ready to accept their Angel’s guidance. This period is likely to be trying for all. The landmarks in your everyday life will collapse day after day.

However, you will individually discover your new abilities of manifesting your true creation, whilst others will strive themselves again in wanting to gather together in order to fight against inequality and injustice.

- To overcome inequality and injustice by extolling love, peace, joy, are the cities of light really an alternative to our sick society ?

- Certain amongst you all have made ground purchases in preparation for welcoming the “Apocalypse’s survivors”. History repeats itself again, as similar initiatives had already thrived towards the end of Atlantis’ period. These lands had finally been able to serve as shelters for the survivors during its collapse. The descendents of the survivors of this dark era, constitute today’s humanity. However, it is very important to understand that this humanity that had survived to Atlantis had not ascended, but it began a new incarnation cycle by starting to take shelter in this type of community.

The consciousness of the immature souls that composed it was not yet ready to accept this transition. These souls have therefore restarted a new cycle by a prosperity’s age : the Golden Age.

This cycle ends itself again at this end of time, in the same way, by a dark age. Thereby the people that prepare themselves to create cities of light are simply immature souls that have not yet managed in transcending the fear of death and are still in the searching of Knowledge.

However, these cities are planned by the great plan to serve as shelter during the Transition towards the New Golden Age. Generally they will be erected in very energetic locations that will make it possible for the soul to relieve itself of the too important emotional charges that it has engendered during these events. Thereby, the coming chaos will either be able to become the rebirth’s fertile ground, your freedom’s ferment as an ascending being, or a start for a new duality cycle that will start again by a Golden Age.

The individual that will realise his ascent in superior plans of consciousness will express “perfection” of his divine beingness as a free creator and will totally take the responsibility of what he creates upon his own self. There will be nobody to condemn anymore, neither the authorities, neither society, nor anyone at all. He will have no need in having big bank accounts, no need in guarantees, nor contracts. Finished the role of victim and of executioner. The accomplished individual will have simply learnt how to abandon his beliefs to elevate his own vision of life.

There are many blank vibratory spaces in your terrestrial dimension, that are already ready to welcome the ascending humanity in its new density.

You will arrive soon to the last metres, before the crossroads and it is at that moment that the worlds will separate themselves definitively. It will be imperative that everyone makes his own choice. There will be no wrong choice, there will only be the free will left in the duality’s dimensions or the faith in your soul for the realisation of Unity. Your soul has arrived at this crossroad where only the faith in your Angel and the rebirth's joy, will guide you to firmly set down feet on the New Earth.

It is from the moment that you will have made the "choice" that we will be next to you and that we will help you to do your first steps in the new density. It is this the 5th density as well as the real paradise on Earth.

It exists, I am over there. We are waiting for you all patiently, to once again embrace ourselves in love that unites ourselves since eternity.

Christine your friend, your friend of the intra-earth's dimensions.

And there I am in tears again... as usual.

Transmitted by Jenaël